

TCOM Study Reservoir

Study Reservoir Structure & Process

Participation Options

Option A: You have the option to donate your agency's data to the Study Data Reservoir. Your commitment would be to provide updated data files on a regular interval. You will be notified about requests to use your data in each study. Based on the study protocol, you have the option to approve the use of your data in the study.

Option B: You have the option to participate on a specific study committee. A study committee will be organized for each study topic. Your commitment would be to meet regularly to develop and oversee the study methods, protocols, replications, results and preparation for publication.

Option C: You have the option to participate on the Governance Committee. This Committee meets regularly to oversee the general protocols for accessing, storing and using data for all studies.

Participants can choose any combination of options for participation. There are no dependencies for participation for any option.
